Your Lifework

Your Lifework is a 12-hour workshop designed to lead participants through a deep exploration of their work behavior and career ambitions. It approaches career counseling and transitional stages in a unique manner. It presents traits, behaviors, and attitudes commonly found in highly successful people as well as the other extreme. The unique program allows individuals to make evaluations of their personality and learning style and compare these to their present life. Participants utilize a take home workbook and several interpreted questionnaires. The Lifework workshops conducted by Behavioral Treatment Providers (BTP) are held on two consecutive 6-hour days. Completion of the BTP workshop will qualify participants to conduct Your Lifework Seminars with others. Individuals who are trained as Your Lifework Facilitators can obtain seminar materials and conduct the workshop with clients or other professionals over two days or as a weekly group meeting for 2 hours per session over 6 sessions. This workshop is considered to be train the trainer.

The program is a series of structured, written exercises that explore behavior, attitudes, feelings, and goals related to work, career, coworkers, hobbies, interests, family, and day-to-day life. Participants must be willing to engage in self-reflection and share some of their thoughts with others.
